

John Paul II Shines Again!

A group of John Paul II Catholic School seventh and eighth graders took part in the Mount Notre Dame Mock United Nations Simulation on Wednesday, October 14th.

Representing the countries of Japan and Mexico, the students participated in a conference concerning anti-personnel landmines and their international impact. The team (Amanda Cobb, Joe Engel, Josh Engel, Sally Luken, Stephen Post, Josh Young and Lanie Parsons) representing Mexico was awarded an Honorable Mention for their delegation, and the team representing Japan (Brennan Bollmer, Noah Enderle, Austin Franklin, Dan Scheid, Sydney Brown, Megan Packer and Alec Hunter) was awarded Best Represented Country. A special award for Best Delegate was awarded to 7th grader, Noah Enderle, for his representation of Japan.
